

Production Process

CORMO tested and optimised process engineering solutions and machines over several years, using its own production facility in Alsace (France). It designed and implemented a system for control of stringent product quality standards, and for online monitoring of process data.

